the Siberian railway.

A merchant recently sent a carload of fruit from Irkutsk to Chita. The raflway charges were 170 rubles, but the tips to railway officials amounted to 120 rubles more.

The merchant started, for a week's delay meant the spoiling of his cargo, and, besides, it was ordered for immediate delivery. But when the fruit dealer had slipped 10 or 15 rubles into the official's hand the latter found that the car was well enough to travel.

At the next station the car fell ill again and had to be restored to health in the same manner, and this process was repeated every time the train stopped.

Local merchants have become used to this "greasing" business and simply add the amount to the price of their wares, so that the consumer pays the freight and the tips as well.

I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by all drugauty Is Blood Deep.
